HARVEST OF OLD PEOPLE CONTINUES

DEATH TAKES A NUMBER OF AGED AND RESPECTED CITIZENS.

James A. Abbott
Mr. James A. Abbott died Tuesday evening, October 30, at his home in Louisa, in the 90th year of his age.

On last Saturday he was stricken with uraemic poisoning. His health has been feeble for quite a while although he was not confined to his bed much of the time.

The funeral took place from the M. E. Church at 1:30 p. m. on Thursday. Rev. A. C. Bostwick, the pastor, conducted the services. Interment in Pine Hill cemetery followed.

A wife and two sons and three daughters survive. They are John Charley, Mrs. Josephine Rice, Mrs. Clara McGrath of Maryland, Mrs. C. J. Carey, Mr. Abbott was one of our most highly esteemed citizens. He was a local preacher in the M. E. Church and had been active in church work ever since he located in Louisa, which was soon after the Civil war. He identified himself with all good civic movements and his influence was thrown on the side of right at all times. He was prominent in politics and had been honored by his party at different times. He served a term as postmaster at Louisa.

Mr. Abbott was a man of commanding figure and of strong personality and ability. He had many warm friends and his genial presence will be greatly missed from the community. His funeral was largely attended.

The services were appropriate and touching. Rev. Bostwick paid beautiful and deserved tribute to the departed and words of genuine comfort to the bereaved family and friends. The choir rendered good special music, adding to the impressiveness of the service.

The pall bearers were A. O. Carter, W. J. Roberts, Lon Hatcher, C. P. Bromley, R. C. McClure, L. T. McClure.

Wm. Layne
Mr. Wm. Layne, aged 46 years, died last Friday at his home on Elk creek a few miles from Louisa. He had been in ill health for about two years.

Mr. Layne was a good citizen. He was an industrious man and was a carpenter by trade. He had done some very fine work on a number of buildings in Louisa. He is survived by two sons, Harry and Geo. Layne and two daughters, Lizzie and Bertha. His wife died about two years ago. Mrs. Green Meek of Huntington, is also one of the daughters.

The funeral service took place Saturday morning from the home and was largely attended. A number of guests from this city. Among these were members of the M. E. church of which Mr. Layne had long been a loyal member.

A more upright and worthy citizen than Mr. Layne was not to be found. His quiet, unobtrusive life gained and held the respect of his neighbors. He has gone to his reward.

Albert Preston
Albert Preston died Wednesday at his home near the mouth of Georgian creek. He was 84 years old and one of the county's best citizens. He was one of several brothers who lived in that section of the county. All were honorable, industrious citizens, and their passing away is a real loss to their country.

KILLED IN THE TORCHLIGHT MINES

JOHN TYREE, AGE 20, IS CRUSHED TO DEATH BY FALLING SLATE.

John Tyree was killed in the coal mines at Torchlight a few days ago by a fall of slate. His death was almost instantaneous. He was 20 years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Tyree, who had been at work for the Torchlight company only half a day when the sad accident occurred.

The home is at Dontham in this county, and the body was taken there for burial. The young man is spoken of very highly by those who knew him, and his death is deeply deplored.

POSTMASTER DRAFTED; MAIL SITUATION SERIOUS

Laurel Ky., Oct. 26.—This city, with a total of approximately 10,000 mail patrons faces the prospect of a closed postoffice tomorrow unless an inspector appointed by the government arrives to take up the work.

Reed Martin appointed a short time ago to the postoffice, was called in the mail and declined to claim exemption. Since his departure for Camp Taylor three more have had the postmaster's slip in one of which called to accept the place permanently. A telegram from William, a yesterday stated that an inspector was to be sent here immediately to take temporary charge of the work.

Work in the Hazard postoffice has more than doubled within the past eighteen months, employees say, and no provision has been made by the government to take care of the increased labor and responsibility.

Sept. Marriage Announced

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Jane Adkins of Potter and Mr. Frank Kilgore of Pritchard, West Va., at this time comes as a surprise to many of the friends of these popular young people. The wedding took place in Ironton, Ohio, on Saturday, September 29, and the fact was very successfully kept a secret until now. Miss Adkins started for a visit to Portsmouth on the day mentioned, but it seems they went only to Ironton.

The bride is a beautiful young lady of very lovable characteristics and is one of Lawrence county's teachers. She has charge this term of the Buchanan school. She is the daughter of Mrs. Geo. Connaman of Potter.

THREE YEARS FOR CHARLEY ROBINSON

OTHER FELONY CASES TO BE TRIED AT A SPECIAL TERM.

In the Lawrence Circuit Court the jury in the case against Chas. Robinson returned a manslaughter verdict and fixed the penalty at three years in the penitentiary. It is said an appeal will be taken.

During a disturbance at a meeting on a Sunday in last June, near Webbville, Robinson shot Wm. Blevins and the wound resulted fatally ten days afterward. Trouble first came up between brothers of these two men, and this led to the tragedy. Liquor played an important hand, Robinson was a constable or special officer, of some kind, but the difficulty with the man who was killed seems to have become a personal matter.

Special Term Called.

Judge Cico has called a special term of the Lawrence Circuit Court to meet December 5 for the purpose of trying the felony cases of Robert Frasure (6th trial), Dr. H. C. Moore and Floyd Wellman.

The present term is about ready for adjournment.

"DYING MOTHERS" PROVE TO BE LADEN TABLES

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Oct. 27.—Court martial probably will result from an investigation of fake telegrams used by soldiers here to gain leave on Friday and Saturday. It was learned today. Investigation by camp officials revealed that "dying mothers" and "sick families" in some cases were awaiting the return of the Samuels with big dinners.

TENTH DISTRICT EDUCATIONAL MEETING IN PAINTSVILLE

The annual league meeting of Tenth District Educational Association was held at Paintsville on October 17-19 with all the counties represented.

On Thursday evening the program began with a splendid address by Pres. Woodley, of Marshall college, Huntington. This was well attended by teachers and townspeople and was enjoyed by all. On Friday those who were scheduled to speak were all present and it has never been possible for the people of our town to enjoy such an educational feast as this. When we say that agricultural agent K. L. Varnay was assigned to topic it would be superfluous to state that his address was both pleasing and forceful, for those who are acquainted with his style know that he has a special knack at keeping folks interested. Supervisor of high schools, McHenry Rhodes, of Frankfort, and an attentive audience when he spoke on "The High School as an Eye-Opener." Dean McDougle of E. K. S. N. S., Richmond was of course interesting with his splendid talk on "Fundamentals." He would not have the teachers neglect the three "R's" in their eagerness to introduce new phases of education work.

Following Dean McDougle on the program came Prof. Marshall E. Vaughn, Secretary of Berea College, with a rousing speech with enough humor in it to make it highly enjoyable.

One of our leading teachers was heard to remark that she was never in life so highly entertained as she was by the splendid oratory of our neighbor and co-worker, State Supt. Shawkey of West Va.

Our own Supt. V. O. Gilbert made a few keenly the need of improvement of rural conditions, generally, throughout the state. He having received knowledge along this line, first-hand was able to impart it, impressively.

Prof. Greer, of Jenkins schools did his bit in teaching us something concerning life in mining districts and the problems that must be faced.

In mentioning the good things of this meeting we would not discount the services of our home people. Hon. Fred Howes made every one feel welcome in the very beginning and, as usual, Prof. W. R. Ward was rallying the teachers to higher ideas and more efficient service in the teaching profession.

Much that was inspiring would have been missed had it not been for the artistic arrangement of the beautiful flowers and ferns effected by Rev. H. G. Sowarda, pastor of M. E. Church South.

At the close of the meeting new officers were installed, Pikeville providing a president in Dr. Record, W. B. Ward is retained as secretary and the next meeting of the organization is to be held in Pikeville.

She said her husband went to work daily at 4 a. m. and was too tired when he came in from the field at 6 p. m. to talk. It was made an honorary life member of the State organization and we are informed that he was the only person upon whom this honor was conferred at that annual meeting. Mr. Burns was one of the leading Sunday school men in Kentucky for forty years and his reputation extended over the greater part of Kentucky. It is an honor worth while and worthy bestowal.

Liberty Bonds Exceed Quota

The subscriptions for Liberty bonds exceeded five billions, an amount of money almost incomprehensible to the human mind. The U. S. government asked the people to buy not less than three billions and not more than five billions the sale closing last Saturday. It was a patriotic response.

Lawrence county exceeded her quota. On the last day about 50 persons availed themselves of the offer of the Louisa National Bank to sell bonds on weekly payments.

The government will make deliveries of bonds as soon as possible. They hope to do this more promptly than before. The terms provide that if another issue should be made at a higher rate of interest than 4 per cent the two issues already made will be increased to the higher rate.

Epworth League Sunday 5:30 p. m. HERBERT O. CHAMBERS, Pastor.

The Halloween supper served in the basement of the M. E. Church South Wednesday evening by Miss Opal Spencer's Sunday school class was quite a success in every way. Enough money was realized to pay the class pledge on the new church.

On last Sunday night Presiding Elder Hollister preached to a good sized congregation and on Monday morning held quarterly conference. He preached on Saturday and Sunday at country appointments in this county.

The Sunday school services last Sunday were varied from the usual program. An interesting feature was the address of M. G. Berry giving an account of his trip to Mayville as a delegate to the State Sunday School Convention. John B. Horton, at home from the army on furlough, made a life talk. M. S. Burns made an interesting speech along patriotic lines. Prof. Kenyon read a selection appropriate to the occasion. W. D. O'Neil was on the program but his address was deferred until next Sunday. F. H. Yates, also on the program was kept away by illness in his family.

The Beautiful Gulf Coast.

The beautiful thing about the Gulf Coast, between New Orleans and Pensacola, is that it is a real playground, summer or winter—a playground for northern folk from November to May and for Southerners during the summer months. You can't ask for much more of placid nature than has been expended on the Gulf littoral between New Orleans and Pensacola. There are pine woods, forests of live oaks, all moss hung and mysterious, long stretches of winding shaded roads, woodland paths, quaint southern hamlets and modern resorts teeming with gayety and active life; lovely retreats where you can swing in a hammock all day and drowse in the narcotic air. And there is the sparkling water, the beach, the surf, boating, fishing—anything and everything that calls from the salt water side.

Going south on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, after you leave Mobile, it is impossible to escape the infection of joyous living, even if you wanted to do that. At every stop throngs of people are going and coming—youth and age alike, getting on or off the trains. Laughter and breezy, sunny, fragrant air greet you. It is moreover a place of rare, natural outdoor joys in surroundings of homely comfort or of luxurious ease, whichever you prefer. It is a locality of ancient and honorable traditions and the natives are descended from holders of the soil since the first days of the white settler. They make you welcome with a stately, southern hospitality, and have put at your disposal the best of their home land and affords. Every resort and every old plantation home is shaded by age-old ancestral oaks and grown over with trailing vines, roses and perennials; and they all look out over the gulf waters, at the dancing waves, the scudding sails, the beach and the surf. If you can't find happiness down there in the golden sunshine and among the countless divers-tions and attractions of that playground, don't go south in the winter expecting to find your "Promised Land," for you'll have only your trouble for your pains. No choicer spot exists and greater comfort is not to be found. The winter climate is ideal, not uncomfortably warm, but moderate and bracing, putting snap and ginger into the system.

Touring along the Gulf Coast is one of the ways travelers take to find their own particular choice—and for this purpose the train service of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad is convenient. You can stop everywhere, beginning at Mobile, and stay a few hours, a few days or as long as you wish. It is a fascinating vantage point that will bring you eventually to the place of your ultimate desire. You can, also, if you choose, ship your motor car to Mobile and go in for regular touring along the gulf—the roads are all good and the country is fascinating in the extreme. History lends its background of fact to a long list of interesting tradition and romantic legends concerning this locality, and the "atmosphere" while woolly American, has the foreign flavor in sufficient degree to give it diversity and variety. Topographically the coast lies low and curving, rising gently toward the hinterland, which is forested with pines, broken in the clearings, by rich and productive farmlands. The shore line is much indented the numerous bays, "bayous" "sounds" and lakes giving a seemingly endless and all-surrounding water-scape. Lying off the shore is a line of islands, forming the outer bulwark of of Mississippi Sound, and fronting this are the resorts that have been famous since pre-revolutionary days—the towns which began as of the French colonies, begun under the brothers de Bienville and d'Iberville.

MAN BELIEVED TO BE FRAUDULENT CHECK WORKER

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 25.—A man giving the name of Isom S. Langford arrested in Cincinnati on charges from Huntington, W. Va., has been identified by Lexington merchants as the worker of a forced check plan to the extent of about $200 here several weeks ago. The check worker used the name of H. B. Rose here and was indicted by the grand jury. Langford has a wife at Winchester. If the Huntington authorities fail to make out a case against him Lexington authorities will make a claim for the prisoner. He used checks on a bank at Harlan, Ky., which no longer exists.

WOMEN TORTURED!

Suffer terribly with corns because of high heels, but why care now.

Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.

Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called Freezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callous. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callous, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain.

This Freezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissues or skin. Tell your wife about this.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

FRIDAY.

Harry Bailey, charged with the murder of Miss Louisa Myers and her mother, Mrs. Julia Myers at New Albany, Ind. Wednesday night, was arrested at the home of his father, Charles Bailey, who notified officers of his son's desire to surrender. Bailey is reported to have gone to the home of his father-in-law, John Wolfe, after the tragedy of Wednesday night, where he threatened his wife and members of the family. Bailey following his arrest, declared that he was not meant to be killed the two women.

With the warning that a hog is more valuable now than a sheep, through the war the United States that consumption of pork, which is now exceeding the production, must be reduced. In a review of the world food situation Mr. Hoover urges that the United States and Canada practice economies that will enable them to feed the Allies without the necessity of sending a ship farther abroad than the Atlantic seaboard. The submarine would by this means be defeated to a certain extent, said Mr. Hoover.

With the Treasury Department estimate of $3,200,000,000 regarded as ultra-conservative by many officials, it was declared that victory for the second Liberty Loan was in sight. Estimates of yesterday's subscriptions brought the total to three and a half billion, in the opinion of many officials. Secretary McAdoo, just back from a transatlantic trip for the loan, urged that there be no letup in the loan campaign for the two remaining days.

Modification of its embargo on sugar to be used in the manufacture of candy is announced by the Food Administration which will allow confectioners to have such additional supplies as added to their stocks on hand will give them 50 per cent. of their normal consumption. The sugar famine in the East is expected to be promptly relieved by the purchase Wednesday of 1,000 tons of Louisiana cane sugar.

French forces on the Alsace continued their successful advance, capturing several important villages, as well as 2,000 additional prisoners. Since the beginning of the present operations, says the announcement made last night by the Paris War Office, more than 12,000 Germans have been captured, as well as 120 big guns and many guns of smaller caliber.

Heavy captures in prisoners and booty have been made by the Austro-German forces attacking the Italians on the Isonzo front. Berlin Army Headquarters announced. The prisoners include division and staff prisoners. The total prisoners taken exceeds 10,000. The fighting is continuing.

In a 6-hour battle with a German submarine off the French coast two sailors of the armed guard and seven members of the crew were wounded. The timely arrival of an American torpedo boat destroyer saved the vessel from being sent to the bottom. Nearly 500 shots were exchanged during the encounter.

Manufacture of leather footwear in Germany soon will be suspended, there is a shortage of vegetables, the fuel problem has not been solved and railway travel will be cut down. These are some of the prospects the German people will face this winter, according to German newspapers.

SATURDAY.

A great volume of complaints has been received by Fuel Administrator Garfield from consumers that coal dealers have exceeded the margin of profit allowed them by the Government, and a general investigation into the retail and wholesale prices of coal throughout the country seems to be in prospect. In a minor way investigations already have been started by the Department of Justice in the East and Middle West. Recommendations as to a revision of coal prices at the mines to be authorized as a result of increased operating expenses under the recent wage agreements between miners and striking miners were submitted by President Wilson by Fuel Administrator Garfield.

Operators with limited objectives were undertaken by the British and French armies in Flanders early yesterday and, notwithstanding great difficulties caused by weather and bad ground, considerable progress was made and valuable positions taken on the greater part of the front attacked. The British troops are continuing their successful drive on the Flanders front, according to the Paris War Office statement. The number of guns captured since the 23d instant totals 160 and 1,200 more prisoners were taken yesterday. In the Champagne enemy surprise attacks broke down and the French succeeded in entering the German lines at one point and brought back prisoners.

Maj. Gen. Harry C. Hays will name a board of officers to hear any charges against officers of the Reserve Corps serving at Camp Zachary Taylor. Regulations governing this procedure have been received in camp. No charges have been filed against any of the 1,200 stationed here so far as is known. Sites are being inspected for the establishment of an artillery range and it may go to West Point, Ky. The measles epidemic in the 336th Infantry continues to spread.

The fall of the Bonelli Cabinet in Italy was due solely to dissatisfaction over the food administration and does not presage any weakening of the Italian policy of vigorous prosecution of the war, according to official advice. Enrico Sonnino, Foreign Minister, in a speech reviewing the internal situation, delivered prior to the vote of lack of confidence, was cheered repeatedly on mentioning the Allies.

National Guard regiments which have been so depleted as to be mere skeletons of units in order to increase other regiments to the European standard will serve as a reserve for Gen. Pershing's troops in France, according to a plan announced yesterday by the War Office. The officers will rotate their ranks. Gen. Pershing will thus always keep his forces at full strength.

Germany's eighteenth enemy has entered the field against her. By a virtually unanimous vote the Brazilian Congress has passed a resolution declaring that a state of war exists between Germany and Brazil. The President of the republic has sanctioned the proclamation of a state of war.

SUNDAY.

Indications are that the Liberty Loan has surpassed $5,000,000,000 in subscriptions by several hundred millions. A compilation of estimated subscriptions from all districts made public by the Treasury showed a total of $4,565,000,000, but that was admittedly an underestimate. The number of subscribers estimated, will be at least 8,000,000 and may go as high as 10,000,000. Subscriptions yesterday, all districts reported were far and away the greatest of the campaign. Every Federal Reserve bank labored under an avalanche of sales making tabulations difficult.

From the western front the most important news to Americans was that announcing the presence of American troops in the first line trenches alongside French infantrymen, and of American artillery acting with French batteries sending the first American-directed shots of the war at the German lines. These troops have not taken over the quiet sector in which they are stationed, but are under French direction. The first statement issued from American headquarters in France reported the men adapting themselves most satisfactorily.

Additional progress for the Austro-German forces is recorded in the great offensive against the Italians and Bertram reports that the whole Isonzo line has been shaken. More than 60,000 prisoners and 500 guns have been captured since the drive was begun. The evening hour, which will determine whether the Italians can be held at the mountain passes and prevent the invasion of the fertile plains of Venezia is believed to be near.

The British in Flanders were engaged Saturday in modest secure the positions they won Friday the more important of which was that on the Helles front, west of Passchendaele, a valuable dominating piece of high ground and held by the Canadians in hard fighting. The French on the Flanders line went further ahead Saturday, capturing German trenches north of the objectives reached on Friday.

Kentucky student officers of the 10th Company at Fort Benning, Harrison, entertained yesterday as a closing feature of the camp. The entertainment came just following the end of the 10th Company's turn in the trenches, and hereafter work was necessary to remove the mud and slime.

Not only has Louisville over-subscribed the minimum allotment of the second Liberty Loan, but has passed the maximum as well. Official subscriptions reported yesterday were $12,000,000.

Miss Mary E. Sweeney, chairman of the Home Economics Committee of the Kentucky Council of National Defense, estimates that 150,000,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables, valued at $40,000,000, have been eaten in Kentucky this season.

The Russians are continuing to move ahead in the Iltza region, apparently with some caution.

MONDAY.

In the Gulf of Riga and in the region of the head of the Gulf of Finland the Germans for several days have remained quiet, making no endeavor to land further forces on the mainland. There has been a return to the fraternizing between the Russians and Germans which was noticeable some time ago on various sectors. Near Libau and in the region of Krivoi efforts at fraternizing have been noticed. In the former sector scores of Russians who had gone out to meet the enemy on a footing of friendship were dispersed by the fire of the Russian artillery.

Prisoners to the number of 100,000 and 700 guns have been captured by the Austro-German forces in their great offensive against the Italians. Gorizia has been retaken the Italian town of Cividale has been occupied and the mountain passes forced. The Second and Third armies are in retreat. Berlin announces. Rome says that certain units showed cowardice and either surrendered or retreated without offering battle.

Only minor engagements were reported yesterday on the western front. The British bettered their positions to the Ypres salient, while the Belgians and French captured important salients around Dixmude. Artillery preparation along the Alsace indicates that the French are getting ready to deliver another sharp blow toward Loon.

Expenditure of the United States Government during the fiscal year, have increased 900 per cent and already now over $3,000,000,000. The total for the month of October was $1,000,000,000, and the monthly total is steadily growing. Treasury Department officials predict that a $2,000,000,000 month is not far off.

British airmen daily are flying over points behind the line in Belgium held by the Germans and dropping bombs upon military positions and airfields. Railway junctions have been bombed effectively and explosives have been loaded several times upon the Spangbroek and Engel airfields.

Searches made by the Paris police in connection with an alleged royalist plot has caused a sensation in the French capital. The office of L'Action Francaise and various headquarters of leagues connected with the newspaper were searched and arms and documents were seized.

President Wilson appealed to the American people again to contribute to the relief of the stricken Armenians and Syrian peoples. The situation among more than 2,000,000 destitute persons is said to be "as distressing as to make a special appeal to the sympathies of all."

Despite uncertainty as to whether Chancellor Michaelis has resigned German newspapers are filled with speculation as to possible successors. Foreign Minister von Kuhlmann and Prince von Lichnow are most frequently mentioned.

From a number of prominent Americans recently returned from European war fronts President Wilson is gathering first-hand testimony concerning conditions there and among civilian populations of America's allies.

President Wilson, in a statement issued yesterday, urged every home and public eating place to pledge its support to the Food Administration and to comply with its requests.

Secretary McAdoo issued a statement asserting his belief that women are qualified for the ballot and expressing the hope that they may get it in New York.

HIGHEST QUALITY HIGHEST AWARDS

PASS ALONG THE SMOKE

YOU warm-hearted people of Lawrence county won't let the men who are fighting your fight go smoke-hungry.

Not a bit of it! You're going to see to it that they get it! The tobacco they need—just as the folks back home in England and France are taking care of the smokers for Tommy and Pollie. It isn't much to do—considering. A dollar or a quarter from you that gives a little comfort to one of your own flesh and blood doesn't stack up to much alongside the fact that the very man you are defending may have to give up his life.

But it's a regular thing to do—end von "regular" men and women will do it.

This is the way. Fill in that coupon below, put it in an envelope together with all you can afford to give and drop it in the nearest box now, addressed to BIG SANDY NEWS TOBACCO FUND.

Our paper has joined The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times in this most worthy undertaking.

Approved by the Secretaries of War and Navy, the management of this fund buys its tobacco at cost—every contribution of 25 cents means 45 to 50 cents' worth of tobacco for the man out there. No one profits but the fighting man—rents, postage, advertising are all contributed and the soldier who gets your tobacco will send you a postal telling how much it meant to him.

There's no argument here. Just put your name on that blank line and pass along the smoke.

PROPHET TELLS OF WAR'S END

German Monk in 1701 Fixed
Three Years and Five Months of Strife.

AMERICAN ENTRY FORETOLD

Document Discovered in Old Monastery in Mecklenburg Describes "Wagons Without Horses" and
"Fiery Dragons of the Air."

Copenhagen.—In the razing of the old monastery of the Holy Ghost in Wismar, Mecklenburg, an old bible was found which contained a remarkable prophecy regarding the present world war. It was written in 1701 by one of the monks on parchment that is now yellow and seared with age. It is now on exhibition in a glass case in the city hall of Wismar. So much publicity has been given to the prophecy in the papers of Germany that thousands have flocked to Wismar to see it.

The prophecy not only gives the cause of the war, but also indicates the countries engaged. Up to the present it has been amazingly accurate. It does not exactly state that Germany will be victorious, but indicates how long the war will last, when the decisive battle will be fought, and where and when peace will come, and adds that Germany will continue to exist as a power for many years. A translation of the writing on the parchment is as follows:

"When Malignity and Hatred Rule"

"Lord, have mercy on thy people despite the fact that they are turning more and more away from thee; that they are destroying thy monasteries and cloisters and forgetting thee. A time will come in Europe when these people will feel the weight of thy hand, when malignity and hatred will rule. It will be at a time when the papal seat will be vacant, and the conflagration will come as the result of the murder of a prince. Seven nations will rise against the eagle with one head and the eagle with two heads. The birds will defend themselves furiously and viciously with their talons, and their wings will protect their people. A prince from their very midst, a sovereign who mounts his horse from the wrong side, will be encompassed by a wall of enemies. His slogan will be 'Onward with God.' The Almighty God will lead him from victory to victory and many will meet their death."

"There will be wagons without horses, and fiery dragons will fly through the air dropping fire and sulphur and destroying cities and villages. The people will turn to God. The terrible war will last three years and five months. The time will come when food can neither be sold nor bought, and bread will be carefully distributed. The seas will be filled with blood and men will lie in wait under the waves for their prey."

America's Entry Foretold.

Here follows a reference to America, which was in those times often referred to as the "country of the seven stars."

"The people of the Seven Stars will attack the ring of steel and suddenly fall upon the bearded nation in the rear and rend it in twain. The whole of the lower Rhine will tremble, but nevertheless will endure to the end."

"The land to the west will be one vast desolation, and the land in the ocean will, with its king, be crushed and suffer all the pangs of hunger. The land of the bearded people will still endure for a long time to come, and following the war the world will be united in one great brotherhood."

"The victors will carry a cross, and between four small cities and four steeples of equal height the decisive battle will be fought. Between two linden trees the victor will fall upon his knees before his army, lift his hands to heaven and thank God. Following this all ungodliness will disappear; the indecent dances that prevailed before the war will be seen no more, and God will reign in church, state and family."

"The war will commence when the grain is ripening and will reach its height when the cherries bloom for the third time. Peace will be consummated by the prince in time for the Christmas mass."

All German newspapers have commented on this amazing prophecy.

"It is remarkable," says one paper, "how accurately this monk has predicted events as they have thus far occurred. We sincerely hope that the longed-for peace will come, as he says, in order that we all may breathe freely again."

Woman Worked as Farmhand.

Louisville.—After laboring for more than a year as a farmhand in order to support herself and infant child, Ada McCubbin grew tired of such manual labor and sought a divorce from David McCubbin, a farmer, and her prayer was answered by Judge Wallace.

Jobs for 1,000 Boys

Little Rock, Ark.—"Boy wanted!" This sign decorates a hundred or more shop windows. Statisticians have estimated that 1,000 boys are needed to fill jobs in Little Rock. Telegraph companies are employing girls to carry messages.

MOST DECORATED WOMAN

Madame Maitre, wife of a French deputy, has been wounded more than once while ministering to the wounds of wounded soldiers near the fighting line. It is said she is the most decorated woman in France. The picture shows her being congratulated after receiving her latest decoration.

MAKE GOOD IN THE ARMY

Men Prominent in College Athletics
Rise Rapidly in the Service.

Boulder, Colo.—University of Colorado athletes will soon find good use for the training they received in school sports here. Word has been received of the arrival "somewhere in France" of two former football stars of the state university, and of two others who were prominent in athletics here.

Elbridge Gerry Chapman, captain of last year's varsity eleven, went to the Fort Riley officers' reserve camp early in the summer and is now a captain in the regular army.

Eddie Evans, who was elected captain of this year's football squad, but who retired from school to seek fame in Uncle Sam's fighting forces, has been made a second lieutenant and letters received here disclose the fact that he is "over there" somewhere.

Hornco P. Wells and Chaucey Bennett, both prominent in athletics at Boulder, have been accepted in the aviation corps and are believed to be "across the pond."

UNCLE SAM BUILDING BIG NAVAL SANITARIUM

Los Animas, Colo.—Uncle Sam's largest recuperation camp for the sick and wounded sailors of the United States navy will be at Fort Lyons, near here, when new additions now under construction are completed. At present the sanitarium accommodates 250 patients, but work is being rapidly pushed on the construction of buildings that will make it possible to care for between 5,000 and 6,000 marines and sailors who are incapacitated through tuberculosis and other diseases. The cost of the work will be about $2,000,000.

Dr. F. H. Ames, who is in charge of the Fort Lyons sanitarium, says that the 4,000-foot altitude of the site makes it an ideal location for the cure of those afflicted with the great white plague, and declares the government plans to make the camp the finest of its kind in the world.

POISONED FISH FOR RATS

Authorities at Somerville, Mass., in War With Invading Army of Rodents.

Somerville, Mass.—Poisoned fish for pesky rats.

The city dump here is headquarters for a rat army which has invaded the city. The authorities are carrying on a franc-tireur warfare against the invaders, and the enemy has been exacting reprisals on family larders.

Householders are fearing that the cold weather will drive the rodents away from the dump to some more private and exclusive domicile.

Poisoned fish will be scattered about the dump and boys will police the vicinity to keep children, dogs and cats from interfering with the rats' repast.

PAWNS RIVAL'S GIFT TO GIRL

She Has Him Arrested in East St.
Louis and Departs With Other Man.

East St. Louis.—A love "triangle," with a diamond ring, making it a "quadrangle," was unfolded in the police station when Miss Annabelle Maca, eighteen years old, of St. Louis, caused the arrest of her former sweetheart, Walter R. Howell, of 646 Collinsville avenue, on a charge of pawning a ring given her by her other sweetheart, Charles Lucas. Then she walked triumphantly away with Lucas, waving farewell to Howell as he was led to a cell.

SEVEN KITTENS GET JOBS IN CONGRESS

Washington.—A job has been found for Congressman Austin's secretary's cat's seven kittens. They will be welcome down on the floor below in Representative Hubert's office. Mice are overrunning the place. They are as bold as bulldogs. Frank McEnany, Mr. Hubert's secretary, says they climb on the big leather chairs and watch him derisively as he tries to work. The other night the mice ate up all the free seeds that Mr. Hubert had for distribution among his constituents. That is not much of a disaster, in view of the fact that his district in New York is one of the most thickly populated in the greater city and the people wouldn't know what to do with the seeds if he sent them on. What is of importance, though, is that the mice also ate up a bas-relief model of the East river, Hell Gate and Ward's Island, being attracted by the excellent quality of glue in the paper mache. Hell Gate is a most precious thing in the eyes of this congressman.

MELT HEIRLOOMS FOR ARMY

Women From All Over Country Give Up Keepsakes to Send Gifts to Soldiers.

New York.—Old gold and silver contributed by women in all parts of the United States to aid in carrying on the work of the National Special Aid society, melted, sold for $2,400.

The gold and silver represented many heirlooms from old families, from Maine to California. Many of them, in sending in their contributions, said that the articles contributed were of great sentimental value.

This money will be used to buy necessities and luxuries, too, for American soldiers in military camps urgently needed. The society received a request from one of those camps for 300 sweaters, 300 pairs of socks, 300 pairs of gloves, phonographs and other camp essentials.

DEDUCTIVE TEST IS FAILURE

Scientific Method Adopted by New York Detectives Admittedly Inconclusive.

New York.—The first real test of the new method evolved by the New York detective bureau for proving crime solely through chemical, scientific and analytical deductions resulted in failure in the court of general sessions. An indictment of Vincenzo De Stefano for ten-year-old Tillie Brown's murder was dismissed when chemists of the central testing laboratories admitted that they had been "too positive" in their statements before the grand jury that they had discovered infinitesimal fragments of the strap used in strangling the child on the handle of a knife found in De Stefano's possession.

DROWNS TRYING TO RESCUE

Scout Master Sinks in Mississippi River
While Bringing Youth
Ashore.

St. Louis.—Eugene Ferris, eight years old, of Alto, a Boy Scout, and William Strittmatter, twenty-one, scoutmaster of a boys' troop, were drowned in the Mississippi river a mile north of Alto.

The scoutmaster, a strong swimmer, had gone to the aid of young Ferris when the latter, in wading about, got into deep water and was carried out into the river by the current. He had succeeded in getting to the boy and had grasped him by the hair and started swimming for the shore, when both sank.

Strittmatter had taken young Ferris and eight other boys of his troop on a hike. The boys prevailed on him to permit them to get into the water, and he joined them.

STRONG CONTRAST IN OUR GENERALS

General Pershing Is Quick on Trigger; Sibert a Tireless Worker.

EACH HAS BIG MAN'S JOB

Commander in Chief Forces Things
Along at Top Speed, While Sibert
Watches Details and Insists on Accuracy.

Field Headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces, France.—Two men, both efficient, both trained in the same school, both in the same line of service, probably never offered stronger contrast than Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the expedition, and Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, division commander. Working as a team, whipping our troops into shape for the grueling struggle awaiting them, it would be hard to find a better combination. Each has a hero-sized man's job and leading a great army in these days offers many man-sized jobs, writes Julius B. Wood in the Chicago News.

Pershing is of the quick-on-the-trigger type. Sibert will be sure that the powder is dry.

Pershing is of the dashing type, nervous, always on the go, like a surcharged battery, stirring everybody he comes in contact with, forcing them along at top speed. He tells what he wants. It is up to the stuff he has picked to see that it is carried out. He'll be sure to know and they'll know. If it isn't. He gives a sharp glance at a company at attention, picks out a man whose eyes are wandering, tells the company commander what is wrong—a few crisp, pointed words which are not forgotten—and the commander knows how to bring the others up to standard. He also realizes that he had better. Pershing fought Moros, administered provinces when an iron hand was necessary, rides day and night in the field and in the office holds his conferences through the day and reads reports most of the night.

Sibert a Methodical Worker.

Sibert is deliberate, methodical, a tireless worker, watching every detail, insisting that reports of his under officers be accurate, comprehensive, covering every angle, of the type that is persistent and sure. His voice is seldom raised above its quiet, even tone. He walks through the village street from his headquarters to his mess each day at the same gait and the same hour. It may be a momentous incident that will delay him a minute, or prevent him from being back at his desk at the minute he calculated on. When he inspects a company he stops in front of each man. His comments to the commanding officer are fatherly in tone. Sibert helped build the Panama canal. He is an engineer with a training for accuracy that figures down to thousandths of inches.

Once when General Pershing was making his flying trip of inspection on his first visit to the American army zone, a smile twitched the corners of his stern lips. A sergeant, one of the old-time "non-coms" who knew army regulations like his holly, was drilling a platoon, mostly gawking, raw recruits. Out of the corner of his eye he saw the general and a following of officers striding across the field in his direction.

"Attention!" he shouted in stentorian tones and the men made their best efforts to assume a military pose.

"Brace up, yer standin' like a lot o' old wimmen," growled the sergeant in a tone meant only for his men. The general, half a dozen strides ahead of the rest of the party, caught it. His iron gray mustache could not cover the smile. He did not criticize that company. Instead he veered off to another with a less exacting drill sergeant.

Pershing Was Interested.

On the same field a sergeant who had won honors in bayonet fencing was drilling a company in the art. General Pershing was interested. He wanted to see that. It appealed to his love for action.

A colonel of marines who accompanied him carried a natty bamboo cane. That was just what the general needed. He took the cane. Then to the edification of the officers, also such of the men as dared glance up from their work, the general gave a demonstration of fencing, the life and death style of a battlefield. With the little cane in his right hand he jabbed, lunged, plunged, jumped forward, slipped sideways, each thrust impaling an imaginary foe.

"Vicious, vigorous, that's what's wanted," he said. "Get the man and on to the next one. There'll not be time in a battle to practice the fine points of fencing."

General Sibert says that two-thirds of the time of the staff officers of any expedition, if it is run properly, is devoted to planning for the comfort and health of the men. He can tell you how each company is billeted, how many cases of sickness there are among the expedition, what proportion of their increased pay the men are saving and how the expedition is equipped for fighting.

There are two big jobs with two big men to fill them. The dashing Pershing and the methodical Sibert make a team that will be hard to beat when their machine once starts.

The Lobaco Co.

SAVE THE ROUGHAGE THIS YEAR.

This fall all the rough feeds should be saved more carefully than ever before. The cornstalks the peavines, the straw, the rough hays—all should be saved and utilized. Rough feeds will not altogether take the place of grain feeds but they will reduce the amount of grain necessary to be fed, even to growing and productive animals, and they will make very little grain indeed necessary for mature and non-productive animals—the idle work stock, dry cows, and feeding cattle that are not expected to gain in weight during the winter. Especially should all the legume hays and straws be looked after with much care. They furnish protein in cheap and digestible form, and are most farm products in the element most lacking in the farm animals' rations.—Southern Agriculturist.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK, BILIOUS, GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE AT ONCE.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that there is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without stirring.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, indigestion, colic—remember a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Corn Pain Stopped Quick

Corns Lift Right Off With "Gets-It"

Blessed relief from corn pains is simple as A B C with "Gets-It." When you've been limping around for days trying to get away from a heart-drilling corn or bumpy callus, and everything you've tried has only made it worse, and then you put some "Gets-It" on and the pain ceases right away, and the corn peels right off like a banana skin—"ahh!" It's a grand and heavenly feeling.

"Gets-It" has revolutionized the corn history of the world. Millions use it and it never fails. Ladies wear smaller shoes and have pain-free feet. We old fellows and young fellows forget our toes and feel frisky as colts. Everybody with a corn or callus needs "Gets-It." We will all walk about and enjoy ourselves as we did without corns. Get a bottle today from your druggist, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. 75c is all you need to pay.

Vote for your home man V. B. Shortridge, for the State Senate.

Hon. C. W. Myers is against the liquor traffic and if elected to the Legislature from Boyd and Lawrence will be found fighting on that side.

As a member of the majority party in the Senate Hon. V. B. Shortridge can and will serve this district to the best advantage.

News that American troops had fired their first shot of the war on the western front took the place of honor in the London papers Sunday.

German and Austrian forces have driven the Italian army back from the ground gained in the victories of the summer and the situation looks quite unfavorable there. The Allies are rushing help to the front.

An amendment to the constitution of Kentucky will be voted on next Tuesday, to permit telephone companies to buy competing lines. It will appear in the third column on the ballot. This is all right if the Legislature can safeguard the public as to rates and service. There is no greater nuisance than two telephone systems in the same town or city, unless it be one alleged system that renders nothing but rotten service and charges exorbitant rates. Having tried both, the writer is competent to testify that either is an abomination. It seems that we ought to be able to trust the Legislature to take care of these points. If so, the constitution should be amended so the Legislature can act upon it.

It has been very properly suggested that instead of feasting on Thanksgiving day this year we should make it a fast day. The conservation of food is so important that this would be a good day's work. The trouble encountered in the United States is to have people bring the great war movements home to themselves. All loyal citizens expect to do their bit in the war some how and some day, but the day is deferred by most of us. This is a good place to begin. Let's cut out the Thanksgiving feast. Then keep up the economy in food. We are told from Washington that the world needs more food than we can possibly supply. The war may be won or lost by the food supply. Starvation of any allied nation will bring it to Germany's peace terms, which are not real peace terms at all. Cook no more food than you consume. The general habit of cooking a surplus and throwing it away is a crime against humanity in the present world crisis. It is a foolish and wasteful habit at any time.

The average voter never has a chance to do anything worth while against the liquor curse except to vote against it. Talking against it is right and necessary but voting against it is the only real blow you can land. The dry man, the prohibition advocate who is in despair never misses an opportunity to vote that way. If you have believed yourself to be on the side of temperance and upon self-examination find that you are about to vote for a doubtful man, wake up and do the manly thing. The issue is fairly and squarely before you in this campaign. A vote for V. B. Shortridge for State Senator is a vote that recognizes the liquor in the district, regardless of politics, should east. The issue is at a critical stage with the advantage on the side of the drys if they will only realize it and strike one decisive blow. Keep on guard only dry men, those who are known by their lives and records to be dry. No genuine dry legislation will be enacted by wet men or half-hearted fellows. Shortridge is dry, reliably dry, consistently and persistently against liquor, and doesn't care who knows it. Why should he care? Why shouldn't he be honest about such an important and honorable matter? If he would compromise his honor to try to deceive a few liquor men into voting for him he would not be worthy of a place in the Senate. Vote for Shortridge and let's get this great question settled right in Kentucky as a result of the work of the Legislature. The Senate is where the liquor people do their hardest work. They fight to elect a liquor majority in that branch of the Legislature every time and all the defeats met by the dry people have been there. This is why it is so important to elect Shortridge this time.

Several battalions of United States soldiers have gone into the trenches in France to relieve weary French troops. They are in a comparatively quiet section of the trenches, but are exchanging shots with the Germans opposite their lines. One American has been slightly wounded. The French troops gave the Americans a great reception when they went into the trenches.

A GERMAN-BORN AMERICAN SPEAKS OF GERMANY

Every once in a while some distinguished citizen of German ancestry, but naturalized as an American, speaks in burning words that should be aligned into the ears of all native-born or naturalized.

Professor Max F. Meyer of the University of Missouri, recently the recipient of an invitation to join one of the organizations with high-sounding names whose real object is to paralyze the fighting arm of the American government in replying that the invitation was an insult said:

"I am thoroughly familiar with the present organization of the German social body and with its culmination, the present German government. I am much more familiar with it than any of your committee. I have lived in Germany 25 years. I was born there. I was educated there. I spent 19 years of my life in German educational institutions from the kindergarten to the research laboratory."

Professor Meyer cites these things to show that he knows Germany not from the outside, but from the inside, as a land in which the military class is the governing class. Stating these facts Professor Meyer then utters this solemn warning to disloyalists in this country:

"If Germany wins this war, 50 years hence its government will rule the American people. I do not want my American children to be put under this yoke, which I escaped by coming to America. My hope is that the German government will be overthrown and that the German nation, my relatives and friends, will enter an international organization for peace and justice."

"But the German government, this fearful danger to our future, can be overthrown only by raising armies not by sitting around your council tables working for the repeal of conscription laws."

OUR COUNTY ROADS.

Buchanan, Ky., Oct. 29.—Some time ago an article appeared in your paper about the condition of the county road from Buchanan to Louisa being so bad one could not travel it. Help has been asked time after time on this subject, but no help was given by the county. Now fellow citizens it is time to look after this matter at our coming election and select officers who will look after our roads where needed. Mr. George Castle for county attorney and Richard Stone for judge are both progressive road men, as their platform show. It is time for voters to wake up on the road question. A VOTER.

TAYLOR FOR SHERIFF.

Will Taylor is not a professional office seeker. This is the first time he or any of his family has asked for office. He is a farmer and live stock grower. As Sheriff he will make a record of which the county will be proud. His office will be well kept and there will be no losses. The Sheriff's office has cost the taxpayers more money in the last fifty years than all others combined because of the losses. Vote for Taylor and be sure of getting a sober, high class official. CITIZEN.

Unlawful To Promise Places

Because of certain reports being circulated I desire to say that I have not made any promises of deputyships in the event of my election as Sheriff of Lawrence county and shall not do so. It is a positive violation of the law to do this and a heavy penalty attaches. Such promises amount to bribery and the law has been so construed. To use a deputyship in this way is going to get anyone into trouble who does it.

If elected I shall try very hard to do the right thing in this as well as in all other matters. I take this opportunity of saying that I fully appreciate the support being given me and hope to soon have the chance to express my thanks personally to each of you.

Very truly, W. M. TAYLOR.

NOTICE.

In order to set at rest a rumor being circulated by some unscrupulous persons to the effect that I have recently been drinking again, I desire to say this story is absolutely false and without foundation. I have drunk nothing intoxicating since March 10 or 12, 1916, nearly 20 months.

FLUX AND REFLUX OF GERMAN ARMY

English Writer Shows How Forces Were Swung to and Fro.

WEST TOTAL NEAR MAXIMUM

On Sept. 1 the Fighting Troops There, He Figures, Reached 1,369 Battalions—Roumania's Entry Causes Swift Change.

With the French Armies.—The flux and reflux of the German forces on the western and eastern fronts, together with their rapid augmentation on either side whenever occasion called for an increase of effectives, have been now clearly set forth. The figures given refer to the various phases of the war, starting with the invasion of Belgium in August, 1914, going right through the allied offensives of 1915 and 1916, the German operations before Verdun, the movements on the Russian and Roumanian frontiers, and concluding with the position as it was on September 1 this year.

It will be seen that in 1914 the Germans threw onto the western front, including the army that forced its way through Belgium, 1,100 battalions of infantry; while on the Russian front, from which they did not await much activity, they left only 322 battalions. By September 1 this year these totals had been enormously raised, for on that date they had on the Franco-Belgian-British front no fewer than 1,300 battalions, while on the eastern front they had in position 935 battalions. Thus at the present moment they are employing 2,234 battalions on both fronts, whereas at the opening of hostilities only 1,512 were engaged.

From One Side to Other. A glance at the totals of the battalions in line on the two fronts at different periods of the war is interesting, as showing how the principal effort of the Germans has swung from time to time from one side to the other.

The attack on Belgium and France absorbed the attention of the German staff when war broke out in August, 1914, and the Russian front was left to a very great extent to take care of itself. At that time the infantry effectives were disposed as follows:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 719

On the western front..... 90% 647

On the eastern front..... 10% 75

The battle of the Yser in November, 1914, caused the Germans to intensify their effort in the West. They brought up their effectives to a higher total than before, but at the same time they were becoming rather anxious about the Russian front, and therefore added to the number of their troops on that side, making the position as follows:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 1,220

On the western front..... 100% 1,220

On the eastern front..... 0% 0

Then came the Russian offensive, which compelled Germany to look round in order to find more troops to meet it. She therefore reduced her effectives somewhat on the western front and sent them eastward, at the same time bringing some more battalions from the interior to add to those on the Russian frontier. In September, 1915, by which time the maximum of the German effort had been reached on that side, the position stood:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 1,369

On the western front..... 100% 1,369

On the eastern front..... 0% 0

Verdun was the next great movement the Germans had in view, and in order to win a victory there they had changed the disposition of their infantry effectives by bringing many divisions westward, so that the position in June, 1916, was:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 1,370

On the western front..... 100% 1,370

On the eastern front..... 0% 0

Brings Further Changes. A fresh awakening of activity in the East was occasioned when Roumania came into the war. This brought further changes in the proportional strength of the German forces on the respective fronts. In December, 1916, they were as follows:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 1,400

On the western front..... 100% 1,400

On the eastern front..... 0% 0

Owing to events connected with the revolution in Russia, Germany threw some more troops into the eastern field of operations, and on September 1 the situation was as follows:

Divisions of 16 Rgt. Battns. 1,400

On the western front..... 100% 1,400

On the eastern front..... 0% 0

These figures refer merely to the troops engaged in the fighting line, and leave out of account those in garrison in the interior of the country, as well as those on the lines of communication.

At the beginning of the war the strength of the German battalion was about 1,000 men. On the assumption that this strength has been maintained the correspondent's statement indicates the presence of 1,369,000 German troops on the western front in September.

SHORTRIDGE DECLARES

WHAT HE STANDS FOR

NO DODGING OF ISSUES AND NO

DICKERING WITH EVIL

FORCES

Glenwood Ky., October 20, 1917.

To Each and Every Voter:—

I am a candidate for State Senator and I wish I could see you and talk to you, but I find it is impossible for me to see all whom I want to see during the campaign. So, I make this method of saying to you what I would say if I had the pleasure of shaking hands with you and talking to you face to face.

To begin with, I am a farmer and stock raiser. I have lived on a farm all my life. And as this district is a farming district chiefly, I feel that I know its needs and I pledge myself if elected to do all I can to secure legislation for the benefit of the people of this district.

I am a Democrat in politics and my name appears on the Democratic ticket but I think the questions before us now in this State are more important than politics and members of all parties who stand for the things I advocate, I pledge myself, if elected, to represent all the people regardless of politics. You should vote not for personal favor, but for the man who stands for what you think is right. I desire to set out some of the things I believe are right and which if I am elected, I will try to have made the law of our State.

I am in favor of every farmer having one dog free from taxation. I favor the State furnishing school books free to all children attending the common schools.

I am for good roads and for Government and State aid in building roads. I am the man that asked Congress through our Representative, W. J. Fields, to appropriate money to help build roads through the country and succeeded in getting it done.

I favor the submission of the liquor question to the voters of the State in the form of a "Prohibition" amendment to the Constitution. And I am not only in favor of the submission of the question to the people, but I am in favor of absolutely prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the State and will, if elected to the Senate, vote to submit the question at once to the people and will support the "dry" cause at all times whether I am elected to the Senate or not.

I am reliably informed that my opponent for this office Dr. Morris, of Greenup, is refusing to commit himself and say where he stands on the liquor question. He says it is not the time to talk. This attitude of his coupled with the fact that I have not been able to get the promise of a vote from a saloon man or from any voter interested in the liquor business, and further with the report that the whiskey men of Ashland and Catlettsburg helped him to get his nomination, convinces me that the doctor must have an "understanding" with the liquor men and you know what that means to the "dry" cause.

I want you to know where I stand on these questions and that I will appreciate your help in this election, and that is why I have trespassed upon your time in asking you to read this letter.

Hoping you will give this Senatorial race careful consideration and that you will conclude to help me and the things I stand for, I am,

Yours truly and faithfully,

V. B. SHORTRIDGE.

UNDER FIRE IN FRENCH TRENCHES

Correspondent Describes Visit to Battle Line in Argonne Forest.

NOISIEST THING IS BIRDS

Germans Drop an Occasional Poorly Aimed Shell—Officer Calls It Dull Life—Visit Acceptable Break in Monotony of Daily Life.

Somewhere in France.—Just now the Argonne forest is no place for a man aching for a scrap. Vanquols Plateau, where thousands of French and Germans met death in bloody combat, is as quiet on these sunny autumn days as the Polo Grounds in midwinter. Barring an occasional thunder roll from far away batteries, and an hourly reciprocal bombardment by French and German guns, the noisiest thing that strikes the valleys is the twitter of the birds.

A young French officer, returning to his trench sector from a village a short distance behind the front, escorted three correspondents to a position from which a wide stretch of the Argonne front could be easily seen. Our car sped through an utterly deserted village, devastated by the retreating Germans after the battle of the Marne and more completely ruined by later bombardments.

The road led straight out into a great amphitheater bordered by wooded hills, criss-crossed by the ruins of old trenches.

Batteries in Woods.

"See those sticks?" said our escort, pointing to a row plainly visible to the naked eye along the top of a hill to our left. "There are the Boches' barbed wire and trenches. He has a few batteries in that woods. If he was energetic he might give us a few shells."

The German positions were getting uncomfortably nearer. We left the car under a slight rise in the ground that hid it from German observation, and started on foot across a field to seek cover behind a hill held by the French. We had barely clambered out of the car when a shell burst 200 yards ahead.

in a field near the road over which our car had been speeding.

"Well, he did try one on us," laughed the French officer, "but it was a dud one. I'll wire the Kaiser to take away his Iron Cross."

Over in the dugouts behind the French trench line an assortment of polius were whittling away at knicknacks, playing cards or taking cat naps. The dull hum of guns came across intervening hills from the Verdun front, only a few kilometers away. Our escorting officer led the way on up over the hilltop past an anti-aircraft gunner who wished us "bon jour" and lamented because he hadn't seen a German for many days.

Called It Dull Life.

At an artillery observation post our coming was an event. The officer in charge confided that it was a dull life. The Germans hadn't sent a shell his way for a long time. He was glad to meet newcomers and might glad to break the monotony of a day's work by pointing out the Boche trenches in the valley below and the great Vanquols mine crater on the yellow side of Vanquols plateau. No sign of life came from trenchland. At one point where a V-shaped German trench seemed almost to run into a V-shaped French trench—only 60 feet separated them—there had been a little grime tossing a few hours earlier, when polius and Boches needed warming up exercises after breakfast. That was all.

Back we went to the officers' dugout for quite palatable war bread and wine.

"War out here," he said as we were leaving, "moves like molasses."

SEATTLE WOMEN WOULD ARM

Discuss Defensive Measures Against Woman Sluggish at Mass Meeting.

Seattle, Wash.—At a mass meeting of Seattle women held to discuss defensive measures against a woman sluggish, who has caused a reign of terror in this city and who is believed by many to be the man guilty of the murder of Miss Ruth de Meritt and Mrs. Florence Wehn, it was suggested that all peddlers and others who make a living by going from door to door be interned, chain locks placed on all residence doors and all women armed for the duration of the emergency.

Not only has Louisville over-subscribed the minimum allotment of the second Liberty Loan, but has passed the maximum as well. Official subscription reported yesterday were $12,000,000.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Two men were disputing over their respective churches. One was a Baptist and one was a Presbyterian. Finally one of them called a neighbor who was passing and asked his opinion as to which was the better church. In which to be saved. "Well, neighbor," he said, "son and I have been hauling wheat nearly forty years. There are two roads that lead to the mill. One is the valley road and the other leads over the hill and never yet has the miller asked me which road I came, but he always asks, 'Is the wheat good?'"

There is a good deal of undeserved censure passed on women on account of their not making home more attractive. Most of this blame is fairly chargeable on men. What heart can a woman strive to make the fireside cheerful when she knows, from bitter experience, that the companion of her life will come home to criticize her cooking, to disregard her personal appearance, and to let off upon her wounded but patient ear fretful language on account of everything that has gone wrong out-of-doors? See to it that you do your part, Mr. Husband, to make home happy by cheerful encouragement to your wife.

A bond of sympathy should, and in most instances does connect mother and daughter. What is more natural than that a young girl should seek her mother's sympathy and advice when trouble comes. Mother's voice has been music to her ear since memory first dawned, her hand has rocked the cradle, rested upon her head as she slept her first prayer, and smoothed her pillow during the weary hours of sickness. She can be trusted and into her ear is poured the secret that no one else may know. Whether it be an offer of marriage or an intimation of a broken vow, mother will know best how to advise.

Our home should be so filled with pleasant smiles, loving words and kind acts, that the moment a member enters it the sunshine of happiness will beam from every countenance and a thrill of joy fill every heart. In fact, the home should be to its members, the pleasantest spot on earth. If cross words must be spoken, let them be directed to strangers or better, still go into the woods and direct them to the wild animals, but a still better way is to keep the mind so full of good thoughts, and the hands so busy in performing kind, christian acts that there will be no room for cross words to mature, and no time or disposition to utter them.

We estimate a mother's importance in her family as high as any one can, and yet we do not believe she monopolizes all the qualities needed in the great work of training up human beings. Her familiarity with her children places her in some respects, at a disadvantage for the exercise of wholesome authority. The wise father will not indeed take the reins of the family government from his wife; but he will make his children feel and know that her gentle sway is sustained by a firm and steady hand; that behind their mother's tender heart stands a cool judgment and a will stronger over than their own, and that cannot impose upon the one or resist the other.

The truest, best and sweetest type of the girl of today does not come from the home of wealth, she steps out from the house where is comfort rather than luxury. She belongs to the great middle class—that class which has given us the best wifehood, which has given helpmates to the foremost men of our time; which teaches its daughters the true meaning of love, which teaches the manners of love, which teaches the practical life of the kitchen as well as teaches its girls the responsibilities of wifehood and the greatness of motherhood.

Don't be a grumbler. Since people contrive to get hold of the prickly side of everything; to run up against the disagreeable things. Half the strength spent in growling would often set things right.

The ocean that saves up her household worries and her bodily pains and aches to entertain her husband with on his return home, drives a sure nail in the coffin of conjugal happiness.

To us it is a beautiful sight to see an aged christian mother looking in the sunset of a life that has been nobly lived. We visit her at her home. There she sits—the old Christian mother—ripe for heaven. Her eyesight is almost gone; but the splendors of the Celestial City kindle up her vision. The gay light of heaven's morn has struck through the gray locks which are folded back over the wrinkled temples. She stoops very much now under the burden of care she used to carry for her children. She sits at home today, too old to find her way to the house of God; but while she sits there, all the clouds come back to her and the children that forty years ago trooped around her arm chair with their little griefs and joys and sorrows—those children are all gone now. Some caught up into the better realm, where they shall never die, and others out in the broad world, attesting the excellency of a christian mother's doctrine.

There should be no day in our lives that did not record some act of kindness, some help held out to the needy. One self-denying act or some kind word or a pleasant glance, has fallen like sunshine or ceased an aching heart. There is no act intended to help another, too small for the Master's notice. It is the conscious attention to what the world calls little things that makes the great humanity and success in life.

A touch of the hand, a look of love, a kindly deed, a sympathetic smile are the medicines for a broken heart.

JOFFRE PRAISES OUR SOLDIERS

Marshal of France With General Pershing Inspects American Forces.

CALL HERO OF MARNE 'PAPA'

United States Soldiers Wild With Enthusiasm as French Idol Visits Training Camp—Pleased With What He Sees.

American Field Headquarters, France.—After a two days' visit with the American troops Marshal Joffre departed for home, his paternity enlarged by a good many American sons. "Papa" Joffre is not only "papa" to the jollies now, but the American soldiers claim him too.

The white-haired savior of the Marne was tumultuously, excitedly greeted by the American soldiers everywhere.

Stands With Pershing.

Thousands of Snammies glimpsed the white-haired French idol for the first time when they were passing in review before him. They gazed steadily, in response to the ringing command, "Eyes left," upon a stout figure in red breeches standing by Pershing's side. Beginning at ten o'clock in the morning, Pershing showed off his first contingent. Thousands of weather-beaten, perfectly conditioned American fighters, their ranks interspersed with flags and hands, swept in waves across the muddy battlefield and dropped below the hill crest. A moment later they reappeared momentarily in the valley beyond where their mud-colored ranks merged into the autumn haze until perfectly blended and lost sight of.

The review was a thrilling panorama of holding, undulating rows of steel helmets as far as the eye could reach.

When the men had all passed by Marshal Joffre made a brief address to the officers.

After considering the various acts of Germany, the marshal said, American drew the sword and no one in France doubted she would do great things. He referred to the great power of America in men, resourcefulness and natural wealth and continued:

"In every way you have realized our hopes. The best proof of your earnestness, your determination to help win this war against autocracy may be read in your eyes as I look into them. Under the direction of General Pershing you are getting ready to face the enemy. Guided by that eminent chief, guided by the zeal with which your great new armies are being perfected, you will move forward to gather the laurels and glory that lie before you."

Building Great War Machine.

"All the news I have from America is to the effect that there, as well as here, you are working in the same intense manner. Guided by such men as General Pershing, your security of war, Mr. Baker, and your chief of staff, General Bliss, you are rapidly going ahead, and I am confident our enemy will see before him one of the most formidable war machines which could ever be imagined."

"Our enemy believed in his foolish pride that he could dominate the universe. Your reply to him has already been most eloquent—more eloquent than he ever dreamed. You have come here to join the allies in delivering humanity from the would-be yoke of German intolerance. Let us continue to be united and victory surely will be ours."

Joffre and Pershing, with Generals Sibert, Bundy and other generals, then entered automobiles, and were whisked away for miles through a score of hamlets where women, children and old men thronged the roadsides to cheer the miracle man of 1914 and the great soldiers of the United States, their newest allies.

NAVY COOKS WILL BE TAUGHT IN BIG HOTELS

New York.—One thousand enlisted men from the navy soon will be cooking meals for guests of New York's big hotels. Hotel managers decided at a meeting of the Hotel Association of New York city to meet the shortage of cooks in the navy and transport service by turning the kitchens of this city's hostilities into training schools.

Oscar Tschirky of the Waldorf, promised to put ten uniformed tars in his kitchen to learn the art of serving men. Sailors in lots of ten or more will be set to work as soon as possible in the kitchens of the Claridge, the McAlpin and other hotels.

Sixteen-Foot Corn Stalk. Columbus, Ind.—Charles Bowers, a farmer living near this city, has a corn stalk that measures 16 feet 1 inch from the ground to the top. The stalk is more than 5 inches in circumference. It has two ears of corn, each of which measures 13½ inches in length.

GREEK TO FILL "SHOES" OF TURK

Prof. Andreade, Athens, Says Countrymen Cover Region Down to Dardanelles.

WOULD BE BAR TO GERMANS

Hellenic Preponderance in Constantinople and Adrianople Basile for Claim—Principle of Nationality Hitherto Ignored.

Athens.—If the Turk is to leave Europe, as the entente allies have required in their war terms, then there is a well defined belief in the Balkans that two results will occur of high importance to Greece and all Europe:

1. That the Greek inevitably will succeed the Turk throughout Thrace and in the whole region down to the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

2. That a new zone of territory friendly to the entente will thus be stretched horizontally straight across the Balkans as a barrier to the German dream of making the Balkans a German high road to the Orient.

Professor Andreade of the University of Athens, one of the foremost authorities on international affairs relating to the Balkans, holds this view, and in the course of a talk he explained how these two results would naturally come about in the final peace adjustment, by reason of the principle of nationalities now accepted by the entente allies as a basis for territorial readjustment.

Point to Greek Predominance.

Professor Andreade, who is a specialist on the extent of Greek citizenship beyond the Greek frontiers—in Macedonia and the other Balkans, in Turkey, Syria and Asia Minor—pointed out the great predominance of the Greeks in the regions to be evacuated by the Turks if they are to leave Europe.

The whole vilayet, or province of Adrianople, extending from the Balkans down to Constantinople, he declared, is as much Greek as it is Turk and with the Turks out it is practically all Greek. "Even Constantinople," he said, "is a Greek city—the largest of Greek cities—with a population of 350,000 Greeks. That gives an idea of the extent of Greek citizenship in all this section down to the straits, which will have to be considered, on the basis of nationality and race, when the Turk leaves Europe."

"That is why I say," added Professor Andreade, "that if the Turk is to withdraw, the principle of nationality, which recognizes the racial condition of a community, will lead to the recognition of Greek paramount influence in that section. Thus far, the principle of nationality has been ignored and violated in all Balkan settlements, and force has prevailed. Austria and Bulgaria have not occupied any of the territory annexed in recent years by reason that their race or nationality prevailed in these sections, but solely by reason of their military force. That has been the cause of the endless wars in the Balkans, for people are never satisfied when their race is ignored and they are attached to a foreign conqueror by force."

Two Barriers to Germany.

Professor Andreade, referring to the Balkan map, showed how the readjustment of Balkan boundaries, based on nationalities, would interpose two barriers to Germanic expansion toward Asia Minor and the Orient—one, the Greek zone across Thrace, and another, the Serb-Romanian link of territory which lies as a dam between Hungary and Bulgaria. This Serb-Romanian link is only fifty miles across, but with Roumania getting the Danub region, to which Professor Andreade says she is entitled by the principle of nationality, this entente link will be 150 miles across.

"And thus entente Europe can accomplish what it chiefly seeks in the Balkans," said Professor Andreade, "friendly entente zones intercepting the natural route of Germanic expansion toward the Orient, and this can be accomplished, not by force, but by the principle of nationality now accepted by the entente powers."

SOLDIERS PRINT OWN NEWS

Pershing's Men Have Their Own Press Humming Away on the French Front.

Paris.—The rumble of the press is added to the various noises surrounding the American army headquarters in Paris. Soldiers' reading matter is printed on the premises. Soldiers, who in civil life used to know the printshop, are printing pamphlets and other army literature for the fighters. A fully equipped printing office with a flat bed press is doing the work. The first type "set up" told Pershing's men in training how to throw bombs and how to handle them without accident. Army orders and the "latest" front home will follow.

Feeds Robin From His Hand. Milton, Ind.—Levi Crull, who lives near Rushville, placed a box near the eave trough of his house and a robin built its nest in the box. Mr. Crull climbs a stepladder and feeds the mother bird, now taking care of her brood of young birds. He gathers worms and the robin eats them from his hand. She does not appear to have any fear of him.

Don't put on the roof until you investigate

It is poor economy to save money by substituting something inferior but wouldn't you like to save on cost if you could get something better? You can get a better roof for less money if you put on

Certain-teed Roofing

Before its merits were recognized, roll roofing was regarded as a more or less temporary roof—but now CERTAIN-TEED has demonstrated that it is not only a most durable roof, but also the most efficient roof.

It is economical to buy, inexpensive to lay and costs practically nothing to maintain. It is light weight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and weather-tight.

It is now used as the preferable type of roof for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is demanded. CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplying roof and these shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the best quality paint materials, ground and mixed with mechanical accuracy. Made for all uses and in all colors. With just a little of the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or enema oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will strengthen you out by morning. A good box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

LETTER FROM THE WEST.

Morton, Wash., Oct. 7, 1917.

Editor Big Sandy News:—We have a paper just from your press and in looking it over I find a letter from one of Kentucky's soldier boys. I am proud to know that the Kentucky boys are in the service of our good old U. S. A. Our Washington boys have answered the call until the camp at American Lake is crowded with the boys, not only from Washington, but other states also.

I like to read the letters in our paper and wish more of the Big Sandy people would write our paper. As I live so far away I would love to know what our Big Sandy people are doing. I would also like to hear personally from Jas. Clark and family. MRS. A. L. JORDAN.

STOMACH ACTS FINE! NO INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN, ACIDITY

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" FIXES SICK, SOUR, UPSET STOMACHS IN FIVE MINUTES.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, when caused by acidity, has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat has like head, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

What We are Fighting Against

(By Newell Dwight Hillis)

German efficiency was chiefly manifest in her plan of frightfulness and terrorism. Nineteen centuries of christian morals had developed consciences in Martin Luther's descendants and installed certain moral principles in the minds of young men. But the conquest of Belgium, France, England and Russia, was not possible with soldiers who were embarrassed by remorse for the Ten Commandments. Conquering Belgium, and France meant the breaking-down of the intellect and the will until the people were cowed.

In his war manual given to every German soldier General von Hentmann, the author, distinctly says the soldier must stamp out all humanitarianism from his chest and that considerations of pity for human life or property must be wholly eradicated from the soldier's mind. The great problem, therefore, was how to release the soldier from any bondage to conscience, from any former fetter the Ten Commandments and from any fear of future punishment in connection with God and the Day of Judgment.

Flauntly the Kaiser and his war staff thought of "the German token." This is of aluminum, about the size of a silver dollar. At the top is a portrait of the Kaiser. Below is a portrait of a kneeling soldier in his right hand, holding a sword in his right hand. Below, are the words:

"Strike him dead."

The day of judgment. Will ask you no questions. The and his war staff believed that if any timid German shrunk back from crime, this would encourage him to every form of excess.

In advance, for months, the German officers drilled the words on this token into the minds of the private soldiers. If the German boy said "Jesus teaches me to love him who offends one of my little ones" it was better for him if a millstone were buried about his neck and he were drowned in the bottom of the sea. In this token the Kaiser whispers: "The Day of Judgment will ask you no questions." The token also explains the Kaiser's charge to his soldiers, starting to China: "You will take no prisoners. You will give no quarter." It is this that explains the devastated regions of Belgium, western and eastern France.

In the face of all their treaties with France, Great Britain, and the United States, the Germans took this token as their example and guide. From the moment they crossed the Belgian and the French line the German advance became an orgy of crime, arson and lust. Neither the ancient Hun nor the Spanish Inquisitors, nor the Sioux Indians with their scalping knives ever were guilty of such atrocities. This is evidenced by the inquiries held after the various German retreats by properly constituted legal commissions, taking testimony, photographing the bodies and preserving the affidavits.

As one out of thousands, I mention affidavits by twenty-five witnesses establishing one atrocity—namely, eight drunken German soldiers marched out of a village they had ruined carrying a naked baby skewered on a bayonet with all the soldiers singing drunken songs as they marched. The mere catalog of their crimes fills the heart with anguish. A young nun crucified upon a door—Captain Fallon and his Australian associates making the affidavits thereof. Girls violated and mutilated. Old men and women murdered in ways that only devils could conceive. This token explains the diary of a German soldier taken from his dead body. "Burned Harte today. We killed all the inhabitants. We live gorgeously. Three bottles of champagne at each meal. Plenty of girls, too. It is a great sport." Our American boys are going out to war against a mad dog, let loose in the world's schoolroom.

Jesus made his choice between His convictions and physical death. Mankind survived His crucifixion, but the race could not have survived a big moral compromise to save His life. To-day mankind can survive the loss of this generation of boys—American, French and British, but one thing society cannot survive, namely, a compromise with German lawlessness, German cruelty and German crime.

Today in many cities and continents men are wondering how the German spies and secret agents manage to keep proposals for peace in the newspapers, at public meetings and before the people. Short of ammunition short of food, alarmed by the breaking of the moral of her soldiers, the German war party begins to fear a revolt against its leadership. In the hope of saving her plunder Germany is now using every conceivable influence to force a peace proposition upon the Allies.

During the first three years, each week brought its own revelation of German preparation for war, through the sinking of hospital ships, the looting of cities, the murder of all the inhabitants of villages, the treachery by her ambassadors of every great capital. Having ended the war epoch, Germany is now preparing for peace, and once more she is using gold, bribes, lies and treachery to gain the desired end. We have the news from Rome of a public official who has fled, having been a secret agent of Germany, spending millions in bribing men of influence. Then came the shock incident to the revelations of Bolo Pasha, with the fifty millions sent to this country for seducing Americans from their loyalty. And now a shock is due to the discovery that last November Pro-Germans began to join all the American peace societies, to control the nominations and the officers to be elected for January.

A full exposure of those machinations would make one of the most startling, dramatic and venal of all the subtle and seductive schemes for peace conceived by diplomatic tricksters. As never before, Satan is now transformed into an angel of light, that the soul of man may be betrayed and debauched. For thoughtful men who have weighed the issues, there is something startling about the enormous gains Germany would make by securing an immediate peace.

Germany has missed the goal she desired, namely, the conquest of a kingdom from Hamburg on the North Sea to the Persian Gulf and two hundred and fifty millions of people. By withdrawing from Belgium and France and then closing the incident, Germany would leave France, Great Britain and their Allies broken by invasion, and saddled with ninety billions of debts. The rich fields east of the River Rhine have not been invaded.

Belgian steel mills, iron foundries, silk and cotton mills, sugar factories, have all been looted of machinery and then burned. France's farms, barns, granaries and vineyards have been destroyed, but not Germany's. To rebuild the ships that England has lost would mean the labor of half a generation. Not in fifty years will Belgium, and France, Poland and Serbia recover and France, Poland and Serbia recover their former prosperity. But while these lands, ruined by German cruelty, are being rebuilt, Germany, having lost nothing by invasion, will put her billions upon a new army, and then strike a second time, and complete a victory but half won. The cessation of this war, therefore, at Germany's request, and the acceptance of a German peace, means an object capitulation of Berlin.

DELAY MAY PROVE FATAL

The early symptoms of consumption are persistent cough and continued hoarseness, loss of weight and appetite, run down, tired feeling, persistent pain in the chest, afternoon temperature, night sweats, spitting of blood, and streaks of blood in the sputum. These symptoms should cause anyone to consult a physician as delay may prove dangerous. Taken in its incipient stage, consumption can be cured. If allowed to run on it becomes difficult to cure it. The best method of cure is sanatorium treatment but when that is impossible the treatment may be followed at home, if the patient can be given plenty of nourishing food, fresh air, kept perfectly clean and will follow the advice of a competent physician. To avoid the infection of others the sputum should be expectorated in cups or other suitable receptacles and burned and other precautions observed. If unable to get sanatorium treatment, write to Dr. W. L. Helzer, Secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission at Frankfort and he will send a pamphlet which deals exclusively with the home treatment.

EDUCATION

ORDER FORD CARS NOW.

I have the information from the company that they will only be able to furnish the number of cars that they have allotted to each agent in the Cincinnati territory and that I shall not take more orders than my allotment calls for as it will be impossible for them to supply them. I have already delivered and have orders for about one half the cars that have been allotted to me. Those who expect to buy cars in the spring and summer of 1918 should get their orders in now or as soon as possible as I will have to deliver the cars in the order in which they are given me, as my territory has been greatly increased covering all of Lawrence and Martin counties in Kentucky and four districts in Wayne county, West Virginia, the number allotted will soon be taken up. For the information of prospective buyers, it is the rule of the Ford Motor company that their cars are to be delivered by their agents in the territory assigned them and that persons living within such territory can not get a Ford car from a agent in other territory. In other words I can not sell and deliver a car to a man living in Boyd county nor can the Boyd county agent sell and deliver a car to a man living in Lawrence, Martin or Wayne county.

Success of a New Remedy
For Backache, Kidneys, Rheumatism

HAVERTVILLE, Ky.—"I have just finished taking my second package of Anuric Tablets and have derived such benefits from them I am writing a few lines for publication that other poor suffering people may be helped by their use as I have been. I suffered from kidney and bladder trouble for two years. Tried doctors and almost every kind of medicine that could be heard of that was recommended for aching head and bladder trouble, but this helped me or gave me any relief so I could rest either day or night. I suffered untold agony and all my family and friends were certain that I would die. I saw Dr. Pierce's Anuric advertised and sent for a trial package and it helped me so much, my pain lessened and I could rest and sleep. I then sent and got two full sized packages which put me on the road to recovery. Pralao to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful Anuric."—Mrs. ELLIS DUNN, Route 2.

NOTE: Folks in town and adjoining counties are delighted with the results they have obtained by using ANURIC, the newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who started the day with a backache, stiff legs, arms and muscles, and aching head (worn out before the day began because they were in and out of bed half a dozen times at night) are appreciating the perfect rest, comfort, and new strength they obtained from Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets, double strength. To prove that this is a certain uric acid solvent and conquers headache, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism, if you've never used the Anuric, send ten cents to Dr. Pierce for a large sample package. This will prove to you that Anuric is many times more active than lithin in eliminating uric acid. If you are a sufferer, go to your best druggist and ask for a small bottle of Anuric.

Army of Clerks for Files in War Department.

United States Profits by British Difficulties in Checking Up Casualty Reports.

Washington.—A small army of clerks, operating files covering 40,000 square feet of floor space, soon will be employed by the statistical division of the war department to keep the individual record of every man wearing Uncle Sam's uniform.

The main purpose of the statistics is to provide an accurate means of checking casualty reports. Incidentally, however, the complete army history of the men will be recorded.

Maj. J. J. Jones has charge of the central office in Washington. Another will be established in Europe. Weekly reports will be made to central offices by divisional bureaus, which in turn will receive information from three members of each regiment, specially detailed to the work.

Two filing systems will be maintained. One, containing in alphabetical order the names of every man in the service, will serve as a check in referring to the regimental files.

The record of each man will contain the name and address of his nearest relative, to serve as an aid to prompt transmission of cables reports of deaths and serious illness. The war department also will undertake to give relatives reports of military funerals, location of burial places and information concerning Americans held in enemy prison camps.

Until the Red Cross came to its aid, the British government experienced great difficulty in handling casualty reports, and by the establishment of this system the war department intends to avoid similar confusion.

DOG VETERAN OF WAR

"Boyeau," the German police dog, shown in the picture with Sam Burbank, his master and bugler of the Columbia War hospital in New York city, is a veteran of the European war, and if the Columbia unit is ordered to the front, may see service again.

Boyeau was drawing a muzzleloader along with three other dogs at the beginning of the war. He was a member of a French company. Somewhere in Belgium he came under German fire and was wounded in the right foreleg. His companions were killed, but Boyeau stuck to his gun and dragged it into position. He was taken to a hospital and his broken leg was set and gradually healed. Then he was brought to America and purchased by Mr. Burbank, who keeps him at the hospital as a constant companion.
